What is Real Love Rocks?

Real Love Rocks is a programme developed by Barnardo's Safer Futures West Child Sexual Exploitation Service to promote healthy, consensual, safe relationships amongst children and young people. It seeks to raise awareness of grooming, child sexual exploitation and online safety. It has two editions to allow age appropriate learning for children and young people in both primary and secondary school. Whilst the primary edition focuses on the importance of feeling free, happy and safe in future relationships, the secondary edition also allows for discussion and activities around the importance of consent, and the impact of sexting and watching porn.

Together the resource packs contain sixty-five activities and thirteen short animations. Real Love Rocks has been written along side young people and many of the animations and activities include their real life stories.

Why has Real Love Rocks been developed?

Real Love Rocks seeks to address some of the findings in the Ofsted Report (2013) 'Not yet good enough: personal, social, health and economic education in schools, which highlighted the need for age-appropriate sex and relationships education for both primary and secondary aged school children to prevent inappropriate sexual behaviours and sexual exploitation'. The report puts an emphasis on the importance of the emotional side of relationships and promotes children being taught the appropriate relationship language, given the confidence to describe unwanted behaviour and given advice on where to get support and help.

Who is Real Love Rocks for?

Real Love Rocks has been designed to be delivered by teachers, school counsellors, youth workers and other professionals who have experience of delivering sex and relationship education to young people. The resource pack itself contains animations, activities, conversation starters and games. The primary school edition has been designed to be delivered with children aged 10-11 and the secondary edition is suitable for those aged 11-14. Both have been designed for use with both genders.

The program has been written to be run over a minimum of four hourly sessions with the flexibility of numerous additional resources if extra input is required.

Real Love Rocks is a preventative resource designed to be used within universal services. It is not to replace any specialist CSE services.
